An Academic Institution With a Missional Heart

One inch deep or one mile deep: which is better? Mukhanyo Theological college is committed to having a theological influence in Africa that is one mile deep and many miles wide. As a distinctively Reformed college it prepares student to touch all of life in South Africa and beyond.

Mukhanyo needs trained theological teachers and supporters who have this same vision. It's people who are committed to teaching the subjects of sin, God's choice of election, Jesus' crucifixion & resurrection, and the origin of salvation. These teachings are vital because a great need is theological depth.

In addition, this college accepts Christian students of all kinds of different backgrounds with the hope to influence the way they serve God. It also trains theological students to become teachers in government schools as a way to provide for their families while influencing many young minds.

Another reason to support Mukhanyo is that it has a wide reach in Africa. Presently it has students from Sudan, Uganda and Zimbabwe, and distance classes in five other African countries. That makes it a critical resource and opportunity for thousands of students.

Furthermore, Mukhanyo employs many dedicated African workers. They are there because they love Jesus and want to serve these eager students. They have a passion to teach and to make a difference whether that be in the class or by distance education.

The college is highly regarded in the community. Its 26-years of existence has already served 5,000 students and when one mentions the name Mukhanyo one will hear good reports such as "I have a friend who went to that school and he has now started a church."

Would you consider supporting the mission at Mukhanyo College by your prayers and donations towards John and Anne's teaching ministry?

Together we can help students to enrich their lives by having a solid Reformed view (one mile deep) that can have an influence not only in their churches and with their families but also to other parts of Africa (one mile wide). By supporting today you can make a difference on the future for Africans. Thank you!

Dr. John will serve as a Senior Lecturer of Theology and Anne will teach English as a Second Language.
